1920 WHEAT CROP MAKING WEALTH

Many Stories Told of Farmers Who Have Acquired Sudden Fortunes

By the Associated Press

TOPEKA, Kans., Aug. 24.—Stories of sudden wealth in the Kansas wheat belt are numerous this year, due to the unusual acreage of "volunteer wheat," a crop grown from seeds which fall in the previous harvesting. Officially estimated there were 1,500,000 acres of volunteer wheat in Kansas this year, or about a sixth of the total harvested acreage. This wheat probably 40,000,000 bushels or representing a monetary value of about $100,000,000. The total Kansas crop of wheat is estimated officially at 150,000,000 bushels.

The large area of volunteer wheat is due to the fact that a great deal of this acreage was deserted as wheat land by the owners after last year's none too bountiful crop had been harvested. The 1919 acreage was in excess of 11,000,000, by far the record for any state in the union. A wet fall caused the kernels of wheat which had fallen to the ground during the harvesting, to germinate.

Finding the "volunteer" crop making a stand, the farmers did not disturb the growth and, with ideal wheat growing weather this spring, the volunteer wheat made yields fully as bountiful as the rest of the crop.

Unnumerable stories of "deserted" acreages, producing $5,000 to $25,000 worth of wheat come from western Kansas where the bulk of the volunteer wheat was grown. Others tell of farmers who purchased farms this year and paid for them with the returns of this year's wheat harvest. Illustrating the "sudden wealth" general throughout the western Kansas counties, where land has been cheap and favorable seasons few and far between, a recent canvass of wheat yields in the vicinity of Oakley, a small town 60 miles east of the Colorado line, in Logan county, showed at least 50 farmers whose wheat crops this year are worth more than $50,000 each; at least 25 have more than $75,000 of wheat each and every farmer has a good crop. Thirteen counties, most of them in northwest Kansas, this year are yielding 48,701,637 bushels of wheat, according to the latest official estimate by the state board of agriculture.

The one big drawback to the Kansas wheat grower's prosperity this year is the lack of facilities in which to transport his wheat to the market centers. Cars still are scarce, especially in the central and western parts of the state, but the situation is not so desperate as it was two months ago, grain dealers report.

Favorable summer rains have practically assured a big crop in Kansas this season. The crop has been officially estimated at 140,000,000 bushels and the official forecasters now assert that the continued favorable weather means the yield will mount still higher. The Kansas weather bureau here reported that it is the first year in its 33 years' existence that Kansas had "bumper" wheat and corn crops the same year. A banker who has lived in Kansas 52 years, is authority for the statement that in that time, such a favorable crop combination never before occurred.

Similar conditions prevail with the oats and barley crops which have been harvested. The state raised 20,000,000 bushels of barley—four times the average annual yield of the last 25 years.

Alfalfa and grain sorghums, to which millions of acres are devoted in Kansas, likewise are producing bountiful crops. Kaw valley potato growers report one of the best crops ever grown. As one editor of western Kansas puts it: "The horn of plenty appears to have been dumped right into the lap of Kansas this year."

THE CHAUTAUQUA DRAWS BIG CROWD

Opening Programs Please
The People And Many
Are Attending.

The Cadmean Chautauqua opened a week's engagement here yesterday afternoon to a crowd that more than half filled the immense auditorium at the East Central State Normal building. The company's tent failed to arrive on time, which accounted for the fact that the program was held at the Normal auditorium. The evening program was also held at the Normal, as will be the program this afternoon. It is said that the tent will be in readiness for the program this evening.

The program yesterday was furnished by the Ithacan Quartet and was a rare musical treat throughout. The same quartet, together with Elsie Mae Gordon, impersonator, furnished the entertainment last evening.

Miss Gordon was a real treat and for more than an hour and a half she kept her audience in an uproar of laughter. She is free and perfectly at ease on the platform and her delivery is splendid.

The program this afternoon will be a musical one by the Harry Davies Singers and a lecture, entitled "Two Bones," by Edmund James Kulp. The evening program will be rendered by the Davies Opera Company in the Mikado, advertised as the "Morris and Most Colorful of Light Operas."

The ladies of the Christian church, who are backing the chautauqua, are pleased with the entertainments so far given, and also with the patronage up to date. Some of the strongest numbers of the entire program are yet to come, and it is believed that the chautauqua will be better patronized when the tent is ready and the entertainments held closer in.

A GOOD START

A good start in many cases is half the battle. In the various kinds of racing the one that gets the best start has an advantage over the other contestants. So it is in the race of life, the men who get the lead in the beginning have the odds in their favor.

A good start each day will bring its reward. A good start each week cannot but end in happiness. A good start in the vocation you would follow is to your credit. A good start in anything you undertake will assist you greatly on the road to success in life.

However, if you are one of those who did not get a good start in what you undertook, do not become discouraged. To be sure, it is a great temptation to think that the battle is totally lost when you get a poor start. Such thought is erroneous. You have only to recall the old story of the tortoise and hare to understand why a good start is not all. If you are behind time, don't sit down to whine but speed up. In all cases let us do our best. It should be our utmost endeavor to get a good start but, if we do not get it, then let us get the best one we can.

GERMANY SENDS RUSSIA SUPPLIES

Forces By Huns.

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Germany has shipped supplies and ammunition to soviet Russia, according to a correspondent of the London Times, who insists that Leon Trotsky, Russian bolshevik war minister, visited east Prussia in spite of official denials of reports to that effect, from Moscow.

"The retreat of the bolshevik armies from the gates of Warsaw," declared the correspondent, may be explained by the fact that they loaded ammunition. Trotsky foresaw the need of the armies during the frantic effort made to capture the Polish capital and made plans accordingly, but was too late. He crossed into Germany and reached an agreement with representatives of the Russian government, by which he was to furnish ammunition to the Russians.

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Members of the British miners federation began today to ballot on the project of calling a strike to enforce their organization demands for an advance in wages and a reduction in the price of coal.

It is forecast by London newspapers that miners will vote overwhelmingly in favor of striking, unless their demands are granted. The government has so far refused to consider the projected advance in wages and a reduction of coal prices.

STATE CONVENTION OF AMERICAN LEGION POSTS

By the Associated Press

SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 24.—The annual convention of Missouri posts of the American Legion will be held here September 3 and 4. State officers of the legion, including a state commander for the ensuing year, will be chosen and matters of legion policy are due for discussion.

Among the matters upon which action is expected are soldier bonus legislation, and a proposal to establish burial plots owned by the legion so that indigent ex-servicemen will not have to be buried in "potter's fields." The convention also is expected to take action on establishing a legion burial ceremony, which will be of a military nature. It is planned to ask the war department to furnish rifles for the purpose of firing salvos over the graves of veterans.

Questions of proper policy for the legion to pursue in connection with various exigencies of civil life are also expected to be discussed, particularly in reference to industrial disputes.

The American Legion in Missouri is reported to be flourishing to an unusual degree, both in the number of posts which it has established and in the activity of its membership.

Oklahoma Natural Gas Co.
Files Petition to Establish City Gas Rate.

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 24.—Hearing of the Oklahoma Natural Gas company's petition for the establishment of a city gas rate began before the state corporation commissioner at the state house here today. Representatives from a dozen or more towns and cities were on hand to represent their side of the case and it was indicated that the hearing would continue throughout the day.

The company seeks to annul the present basis of payment, it was explained, between the distributing company and the producing company, by which the producing company receives a percentage of the receipts. The gas company seeks to secure an order authorizing a contract between the producer and the distributor for a city "gate rate," that is for gas delivered at the city's gate.

KANSAS FARMERS UNION TO OPEN NEW BUILDING

By the Associated Press

TOPEKA, Aug. 24.—State headquarters of the Farmers' Union of Kansas will be opened in Topeka in the near future and a building costing approximately $40,000 will be erected to house the executive offices of the organization, Maurice McAuliffe, president, has announced.

The union has a membership of 130,000, according to McAuliffe, and at various points over the state has established co-operative stores and elevators numbering 625.

Plans for raising a fund to meet the cost of building the headquarters are being worked out by officials of the organization. No site has been selected as yet and the task of raising the money will be the initial step of the program, the president said.

The proposition of moving the headquarters from Salina to Topeka was adopted 2 to 1 in a referendum submitted to the membership of the union, it was announced.

TROOPS PURSUE BANDIT'S CHIEF

Government Troops Commanded By General
Gracia Follow Zomora

By the Associated Press

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 23.—Pedro Zamora, the bandit chief whose men carried off a number of captives, including several American and British subjects on August 20, in being closely pursued by government troops, said General Gracia, chief of staff at the war department tonight. The general added that the bandit's followers were rapidly deserting and that by the end of the month not more than fifteen or twenty would remain of the band.

Six Americans who were held by Zamora have been released but there are several more still in the hands of the bandit and at least two British subjects are being held for ransom. It is possible that more British and American captives are still being held by the bandit.

The Expanza Mining company of Oro, state of Mexico, has information that upwards of 300 women are being held as captives by the outlaw.

ENGLAND AND ITALY REFUSE RECOGNITION

By the Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Great Britain and Italy will refuse recognition to the Russian soviet government if it does not withdraw its demand, presented as a part of the peace terms at Minsk, for a proletarian army in Poland. This has been decided upon by premiers Lloyd George and Giollette of Great Britain and Italy, who have been in a meeting since Sunday. A statement given by the two premiers declared they had resolved to defer resumption of diplomatic relations with the Moscow government until it withdrew what was described as "this sinister proposal." It further stated that "negotiations of any kind with a government which so lightly treats its word became difficult if not impossible."

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Governor Cox, democratic presidential candidate, today gave out a statement declaring that he "would prove his charges regarding the magnitude of the republican campaign expense fund. He stated that he would present his information in his address next Thursday night in Pittsburgh.

"Senator Harding denies my charges about the campaign fund, which the senatorial oligarchy is raising," Governor Cox said in his statement. "I am prepared to believe that he knows nothing about a lot of things that are going on around him. This reveals the very dangerous symptoms which I have been discussing. In my Pittsburgh speech this week I will advise the country of the matters of which the senator claims to be ignorant, and I will 'prove my charges.'"

—the only individual that can sit still and produce dividends, says a philosopher. Certainly no merchant or other individual who depends upon public patronage can sit still and make any progress. In the small town communities of long ago it might have been necessary for the buyer to look up the store that sold the article he wished to purchase, but reverse is true now-a-days. The store keeper in this day must look up the buyer. There are many stores selling the same article and the store that gets the most patronage must cater to the people and let them know what opportunities in buying they are offering. HOW IS THE PUBLIC TO KNOW THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURES OF YOUR BUSINESS IF YOU DO NOT ADVERTISE THE FACT? There is absolutely no alternative, if you wish to keep abreast of the times and either keep up or get ahead of your competitor you must advertise.

ONTARIO'S CAMPS ARE AT THEIR BEST IN LATE SUMMER

LANDING A BIG TIMAGAMI TROUT

August and September are ideal months for camping in the wilds of Ontario. The woods are dry underfoot and thickly leaved overhead; flies and mosquitoes have vanished; wild berries are abundant; the water has been warmed to a comfortable bathing temperature by July's sun, yet is cool enough for good fishing.

The line of railway that runs north from Toronto along the Georgian Bay, is strung with good camping resorts. French River district appeals to those who like a rough it. This is an electric-lightless, telephoneless country. Good food and good beds are what sportsmen want and find in the comfortable camp buildings hereabouts, or tenting with experienced guides.

One of the newer camps is located on Trout Lake, eight miles by water from the station of Paget. Though established only a few years, its popularity is such that it has been twice enlarged. Trout Lake yields excellent fishing, small-mouth black bass and huge salmon trout are plentiful, dore (pickers) and maskinonge are also there. One is not restricted to Trout Lake for sport here; take a canoe and a basket of lunch and get an early morning start for one of the many little lakes that may be found within a radius of ten miles and you will be pretty sure to return with a satisfying string. Timagami in the Temiskaming district makes a bid for those who want to get still farther north. Timagami Lake covers 87 square miles, exclusive of the 1,600 islands that dot its surface. Visitors who do not own a summer home or set up their own camp on one of the islands, can find accommodations in several large camps, hotels or boarding houses. This is a practically unexploited region and in consequence the fishing is excellent. Trout, bass, pickerel and pike may be found in Timagami and its adjacent waters. Between Trout Lake and Timagami another new summer resort is to be found in Ka Wig A Mog Lodge ten miles from Palesley. Here comfort and delightful scenery may be enjoyed along with good sport.

WILL ASK FOR INCREASE OF PAY

Kansas Teacher's Association Draft Resolutions Demanding Increase

By the Associated Press
TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 24. — Increased pay for teachers in the state schools, county superintendents and members of the state educational department are asked in resolutions drafted by the resolutions committee of the Kansas State Teachers' association for the presentation to the fourth district convention of the organization. The district meetings will be held in Topeka, Independence, Hays and Hutchinson, Oct. 28, 29 and 30.

"Immediate and appropriate legislation" by the state legislature which meets next January to remedy existing salary conditions is urged in the resolutions.

A general increase in teachers' pay was asked by the association last year, according to officials of the association. These requests were granted without regard to state teachers, county superintendents or state educational department officials.

The resolution requesting salary increases reads:

"Whereas, the cost of living in all occupations has been increased at least one hundred and thirty per cent since 1914, and whereas, the state of Kansas has not adequately increased the salaries of its state institution officers and instructors, its county superintendents and officials of its state department of education and whereas, the existing conditions are bound to jeopardize the best educational interests of our state because teachers and officials of inferior ability will of necessity have to be selected to replace those who have been compelled solely because of financial need to give over their work for the state.

"Be it therefore resolved, that the teachers of the state of Kansas in convention assembled do unequivocally favor salaries for the state institution teachers, county superintendents and officials of the state department of education commensurate with the increased cost of living and on a par with salaries in states of equal rank with the state of Kansas, and,

"Be it further resolved, that the Kansas state legislature which convenes January next be urged to remedy existing conditions with immediate and appropriate legislation."

Other resolutions approved by the committee to be presented to the district meetings urge establishment of higher standards in the teaching profession through enactment of a standardized certificate law and regulation of graduation of teachers, and provision for direct representation of the public schools on the state school book commission.

The next legislature will be asked to provide for the appointment of one city superintendent and one county superintendent to the school book commission.

Another resolution strongly urges a readjustment of the school tax burden. The state's method of financing its educational institutions is attacked as "a niggardly finan-

TO EXPLORE AND MAP NORTH GREENLAND

By the Associated Press
COPENHAGEN — Laue Koch, the Danish explorer, who heads an expedition to northern Greenland, in an interview before his departure, explained the purpose of his mission. The enterprise, he said, is in the nature of a jubilee expedition in honor of the 200th anniversary of the arrival in Greenland of Hans Egedes, the Danish missionary.

"During these 200 years Greenland has been thoroughly explored," said M. Koch. "Northern Greenland however, has never been mapped out. This is the aim of the present expedition because otherwise, Denmark would be obliged to apply sovereignty to regions which had not yet been visited by white men."

"I have already proven to the satisfaction of American and British scientists that in Northern Greenland there is a mountain range 2,000 feet high, the size of the Caucasus range."

"I further want to penetrate the interior of Pearyland leaving direct for Ingfield Gold, from which point I will cross inland ice on a motor tractor, establishing a depot at Warmingland."

"Trials conducted during the last few months prove that tractors can attain a speed of six kilometers an hour, equalling the speed of a dog sled."

"The expedition will be gone three years, at the end of which time the remaining fourth of Greenland will have been mapped. I also expect to bring back a very interesting geological collection."

GAVE HER STRENGTH

Mrs. Miller Says That is What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Her—Read Her Letter—

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old, and it was a misery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nursed my baby exclusively again and can't say too much for your medicine."

—Mrs. A. L. Miller, 2633 E. 24th St., Minneapolis, Minn.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help this woman it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

The desire of business to trim its sails so that it might weather any approaching squall was more definitely emphasized last month than at any time since the spring of 1916. This was particularly noticeable toward the latter part of the month when large industries began cutting down their forces, as did the Pennsylvania railroad in discharging 12,000 men and as did the American Woolen Mills which released a large number of its less efficient employees.

In other instances, large industries moved to safe guard their business by slackening their volume of production. The strain brought about by the scarcity of capital has by now affected all industries. Whether that strain can be relieved by decreased production remains to be seen, but it would seem that the cost to do business in industries with a fixed overhead could be lessened more successfully by an increase of volume rather than by a decrease. That the strain would be relieved by increased production under normal conditions of transportation is undoubtedly true, but today facilities are not available to transfer any greater volume of goods from the point of production to the point of consumption than now is being handled. At least that is the way some industrial economists analyze the situation.

There has been some slight improvement in railroad situation within the month and commodities are moving more freely into trade channels. Continued improvement should ease the situation materially. Meanwhile, the problem before business is to produce as much as possible at the lowest possible margin of cost and at the same time to keep production in a healthy condition.

The security market, despite forecasts to the contrary, still has failed to develop a definite trend. During the month dullness and irregularity were the characteristics which ruled the stock exchange and although sentiment was optimistic, it was scarcely borne out by actual trading. Dealings on the stock exchange seem to indicate the desire of a great many holders of gilt edged securities to liquidate in order to obtain cash with which to continue operations.

Bonds of known industrial concerns have undoubtedly reached low ebb in the tide which swept over the securities market three months ago and that is the thing on which traders doubtless base their optimism.

Cancellations of orders by retail merchants to wholesalers and jobbers seem to be increasing in number and volume. That is due in part, and perhaps mainly, to the fact that the retailer has a belief that prices are going lower. These cancellations have resulted in some instances in partial shutdowns and the adoption of a part time basis by some manufacturing industries, particularly in the textile industry. Another reason for cancellation is, probably, that the retailers last season anticipated a much larger volume of business than was realized this summer, and in their eagerness to have adequate merchandise with which to supply the hoped for demand, rushed their orders to manufacturers on the basis of a hope which was at best guess work. There is no doubt but that a great many customers have reached the conclusion that prices are too high and that they can restrain their further advance, if not influence their reduction, by abstaining from further purchases. That feeling has extended to the retail merchant in his dealings with the wholesale jobber to a large degree and, of course, has direct bearing on the cancellation of orders.

The backbone of the industrial structure — credit — gained no strength during the month. Banks continued to hold up interest rates and the rate for call money in Wall Street held at from 8 to 9 per cent throughout the month. Industrial loans were very difficult to obtain and then only at rates that were in many instances equivalent to 10 per cent and many borrowers of sterling worth and of known financial stability were forced to pay that price. It remains to be seen just how that situation will affect the public, on which, of course, it will ultimately be reflected.

Small businesses are feeling the credit stringency more and more as evidenced by the Dunn and Bradstreet reports, as to the increasing number of business failures. Bankruptcy proceedings have increased, according to these reports, considerably within the last thirty day period as compared with the previous thirty day period and the corresponding time last year.

Any forecast at this time as to the trend of business for the next quarter would be nothing more than a wild guess, as there are many conflicting agencies at work, such as the possible coal strike, car shortage due to movement of the fall crops, and further transportation tie-ups, any one of which would have such an extremely devastating influence on business that the future is quite hidden from the view of financiers.

But the fact that crop conditions, according to the latest summary, are satisfactory seems to warrant optimism. Corn is said to have made splendid progress and to be in fine condition. Cotton, though late, is doing well. While spring wheat is making satisfactory progress, good reports are received from the districts in which the threshing of winter wheat has begun.

A good crop year may help the situation materially, though at this time, it is difficult to see just how the crops no matter how good they may be or just what it is going to be moved to trade channels in an orderly way or just what it is going to cost the farmer to market his foods.

DEAR PETE:

Just blew into Pittsburg to close that N and P purchase. While I was waiting for the contract to be signed who ambles in to the G. M.'s office but President Holt! Asked me if I had a cigarette. Slipped him my "Camel Garage." Remember, he hit the "straight" boys when I met him last year?

Pete, you ought to hear Mr. Holt talk Camels! Gee, I thought I was some Camel spieler. But he went right to the mat with the subject. Say, if I could have shorthanded that line of super-stuff I'd have the job writing Camel ads by noon today!

"Reynolds ought to get a dollar for every Camel cigarette," Mr. Holt declared. "Why, my boy, Camels are simply wonderful," he added. "Don't ever let anybody talk about mild cigarettes compared with Camels! I know! (Get that, Pete). I've proved it to a hundred smokers that Camels are the mellowest and most refreshing cigarette in the world," etc., etc.

Pete, Camels won Mr. Holt like they won me — on their quality! After hearing him cut loose, I felt like saying: "You tell it, old parcel post, I can't express it!"

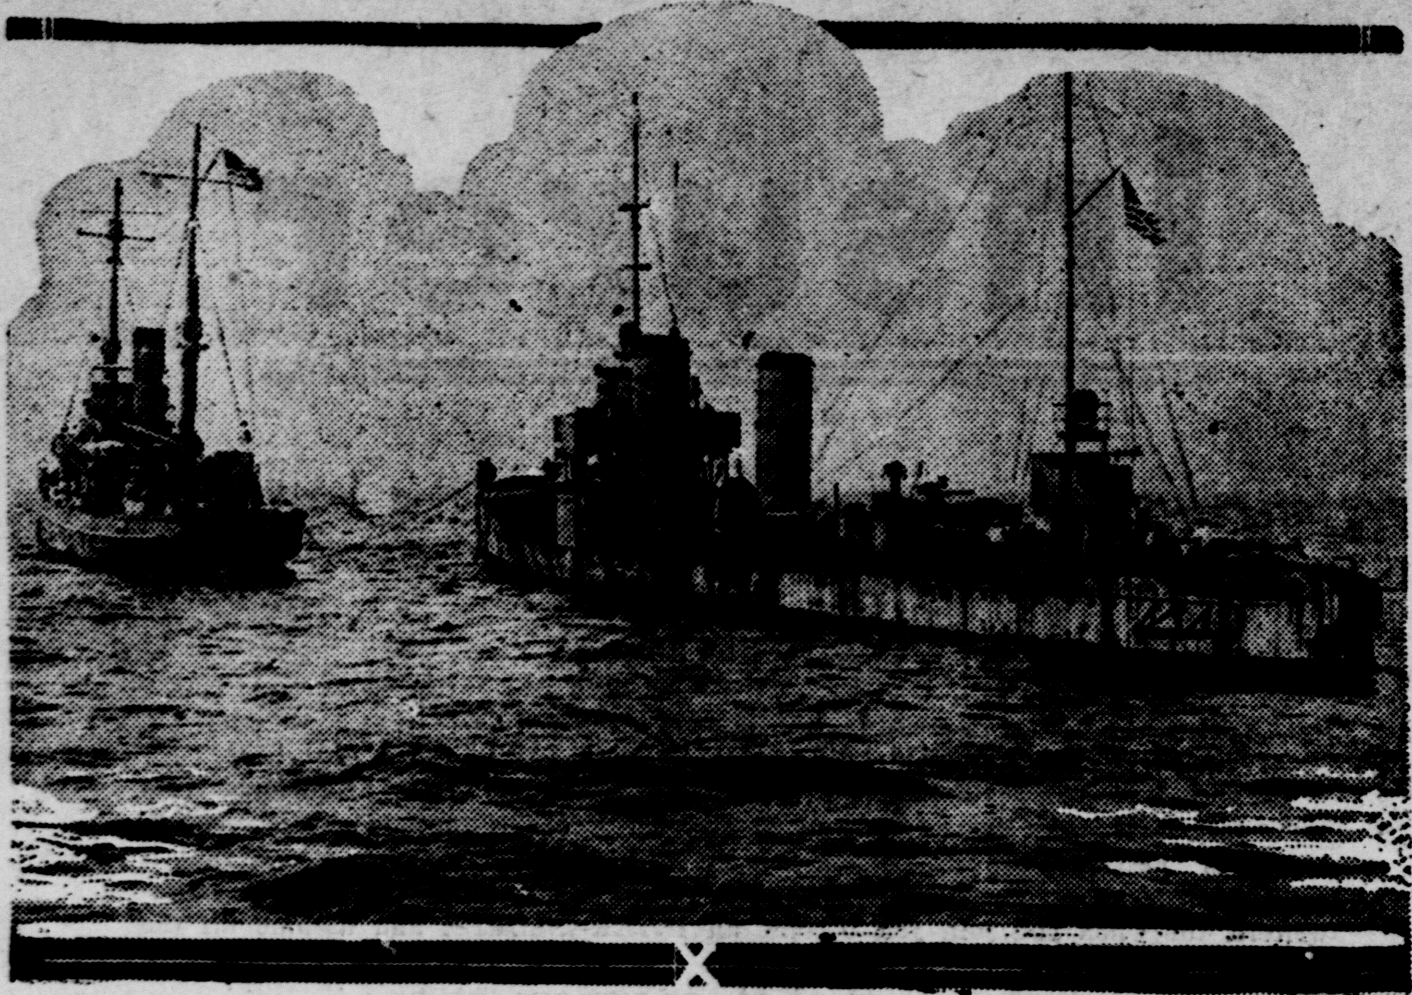

Pete, I'm hatching an idea about Camels, I'll spill it your direction next time I write! It's what York State folks call a "pip-ing!" And it's ripe!

IRRIGATION CONGRESS TO BE HELD IN KANSAS

By the Associated Press
DODGE CITY, Kan., Aug. 24.—Kansans who are interested in irrigation will derive benefit from the program which has been arranged for the annual meeting of the Kansas State Irrigation Congress, which is to be held in Dodge City on September 16 and 17. The local chamber of commerce has made extensive arrangements to entertain the visitors while they are not attending the sessions of the congress, and it is expected that the meeting this year will be the best in recent years. It is the efforts of the officers and of the local organizations are not ill spent. Experts will discuss various divisions of irrigation, including the installation of wells and pumps in both shallow and deep water sections, the use of water on various crops, the opportunities for the development of Kansas through irrigation and what it already has done, the need for further irrigation legislation, and other topics. Among the speakers who have been invited are Gov. Henry J. Allen, J. C. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture; H. B. Walker, irrigation and drainage engineer, Manhattan; Albert Dickens, professor of horticulture, Manhattan; F. D. Farrell, dean of the extension division of the agricultural college, Manhattan; J. G. Lill of the federal department of agriculture, now Rocky Ford, Colo.;

RAIL COMMISSION MAKES ITS REPORT

Urges Use Of Common Sense To Handle Affairs Of Electric Railways.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Satisfactory solution of the problem presented by the electric street railway industry can be reached through application of principles "of ordinary economic and business common sense" in the unanimous opinion of the seven men who composed the Federal Electric Railways Commission appointed by President Wilson in 1919. The report of the commission, prepared after exhaustive hearings and examination of nearly 100 witnesses, was made public today and says:

"The commission can go no further than its point out the principles upon which the readjustment should be made. The task really is that of the state and local authorities upon the one hand and of the companies upon the other. Failure to rehabilitate the industry and the service is possible only if those upon whom the responsibility rests fail to undertake the work or pursue it in a spirit that makes settlement impossible. In a summary of its conclusions and recommendations the commission said in part:

"The electric railway industry as it now exists is without financial credit and not properly performing its public function. This condition is the result of early financial mismanagement and economic causes, accentuated by existing high price levels of labor and materials and the failure of a uniform unit fare of five cents prescribed either by statute or by local franchise ordinances or contracts to provide the necessary revenues to pay operating costs and to maintain the property on a reasonable basis. "The industry can be restored to a normal basis only by the introduction of economies in operation, improving its tracks, equipment and service and securing a reasonable return upon its property used in public service when honestly and efficiently managed. "Restoration of credit involves a readjustment of relations which will remove public antagonism, provide public co-operation and insure the investor the integrity of the investment and a fair rate of return thereon. Full co-operation of labor is essential to the prosperity and usefulness of the electric lines, the report says, adding that employees should receive a living wage and have humane hours and working conditions. "They should have the right to deal collectively with their employers," it continues, "through committees or representatives of their own selection. All labor disputes should be settled voluntarily or by arbitration and the award of such a board should be final and binding upon both parties. "It is intolerable that the transportation service of a city should be subject to occasional paralysis, whether by strikes or lockouts. "A satisfactory solution of the problems of the industry cannot be reached without considering the fair valuation of the properties, the report says. When this is done, it adds, companies should voluntarily reduce capitalization to the basis of that valuation. The commissioners held that while it seemed best for state authorities to have jurisdiction over electric lines, either directly or on appeal, that there was "no insuperable objection" to large and "wide-awake" cities exercising exclusive regulatory powers over rates and service. Discussing cost-of-service contracts, the report says they are in an experimental stage, but "seem to have secured a fair return upon capital, established credit and affected reasonably satisfactory public service."

"Such contracts may safely be entered into," it continues, "where the public right eventually to acquire the property is safeguarded."

This leads the commission into a discussion of public ownership of street railways from which this conclusion is derived:

"While eventually it might become expedient for the public to own and operate electric railways, there is nothing in the experience thus far obtained in this country which will justify the assertion that it will result in better or cheaper service than privately operated utilities could afford if properly regulated."

"Public ownership and operation of local transportation systems whether or not it be considered ultimately desirable, is now, because of constitutional and statutory prohibitions, financial and legal obstacles, the present degree of responsibility of our local governments and the state of public opinion, practicable in so few instances that private ownership and operation must as a general rule be continued for an extended period."

"If the reforms incident to public regulation which we suggest in this report should not result in making private ownership satisfactory to the public, such reforms should at least enable public ownership to be established upon a just and equitable basis."

Development of motor bus and jitney service has been "a serious although not a fatal competition" to trolley lines, the commission finds. Where such conveyances are operated as public carriers they should be subjected to "equivalent regulatory provisions" with the trolleys, the report adds, and declares that they might well be used to supplement trolley service to advantage. The commission recommends that special assessments against trolley companies for construction and maintenance of bridges and streets also used as public highways be eliminated. It urges also that trolley extensions into new territory where property values were specially benefited should be paid for by assessment of such property "and that the amount of such assessments should not be added to the physical value of the corporate property."

In this connection the report enumerates among factors that have contributed to the "present plight" of the trolley lines "overbuilding into unprofitable territory or to promote real estate enterprises, involved sometimes with political improprieties."

MUSIC OF "SQUEALERS" NO LONGER HEARD NOW

BONNER SPRINGS, Kan., Aug. 24.—The loud honking of geese and squealing of hogs led to the issue of state warrants for two men and a woman here recently, charging the operation of an illicit still. Wyandotte county authorities assert that a still producing forty gallons of whiskey daily was discovered. The hogs and geese whose unusual commotion is said to have led to the discovery of the still, are supposed to have been drunk on "sour mash."

THE GNAT AND THE CAMEL

We Americans have devoted so much time and energy to bragging on ourselves that we have finally convinced ourselves that we are the keenest of earth's people and have the best government that the stars in their courses have ever looked down on. We are thoroughly convinced that we could in matters of government give old King Solomon cards and spades and in matters of ethics send the wise men of Babylon back to the Euphrates to begin kindergarten work anew.

But what do you suppose others think of us? Really now wouldn't you like to read a book of American travels written by some keen-brained visitor from another planet? Wouldn't you like to pick up a newspaper from Mars and read a front page review by some capable Martian on the habits and customs and peculiarities and idiosyncracies of the American people? Wouldn't it make interesting reading?

This thought was started to rolling around in our think tank last night by the remarks of a Main Street philosopher who was sitting in his Essex waiting for the Katy express to ramble in from Oklahoma City. He got to laughing at and about some of the moral and legal high jinks of the city and citizens of Ada. Sunday base ball started his lucubrations and only the arrival of the train stopped them.

"We have cut out Sunday shows," said the philosopher, in his slangless idioms, "but we allow Sunday base ball to go hootin'. If some operator should turn loose a reel showing the signing of the declaration of independence or the agony of Gethsemane, the operator would be banished from the realm and the audience would be bottled up in the city jug. If a picture show should open its doors for an hour on a Sunday afternoon, the building would be enjoined before sunset and its owners in jail before sunrise. But—the two thousand ox-eyed Americans can assemble at the county fair ground to watch eighteen good men lamb the spheroid from 3 o'clock to the cow barns and it is treated as pure and innocent fun."

"Let a copper colored aborigine practice his war whoop on West Main just to encourage his circulation and aid his digestion, and the third whoop will put him under the city hall and insure him a maximum fine with good coffee trimmings. But people living three miles from the ball park this afternoon heard 2,000 people war whooping to beat old Tecumseh and it was regarded as a part of the day's work. What the wisecracks call disturbing the peace in one man is innocent pastime in a thousand men."

"Then our gambling laws apply only to the retailer. If a downtown denizen bets four bits on a seven-up game, he draws a twenty five buck assessment in the highest court known to Ada. But if the same free and independent citizen bets a thousand simoleons on a ball game, he is crowned as a model citizen displaying all the earmarks of a commendable public spirit. The law doesn't reach the wholesaler."

"If a thoughtless citizen should get out his shotgun and turn loose a load of birdshot down Main Street at 4 o'clock in the morning when the street is empty of people, he would very probably draw a hundred dollars and thirty days. But the same thoughtless citizen can with malice aforethought bang a three-cylindred idiot on the steering wheel of a six cylindred car and turn that car loose on Main when the street is crowded with school children and the only comment he will arouse is a lot of warm talk about the great number of costly cars our city is able to afford."

"In talking about somebody or other at some time or other Artemas Ward said he was a 'komical Kuss.' That's what we are. I like a Sunday ball game and I like a fast footed automobile and I like to see the big crowds in the bleachers get up and jazz. But it does beat the world how we strain at the smallest buffalo gnat that blows up out of Boggy bottoms and then swallow the biggest flock of camels that ever came overseas from Bagdad."

Twenty years ago Cleveland was elected by the Democrats and went into office while a panic was sweeping the country. The panic lasted longer than Cleveland did, and because of its ravages the people voted Democrats out of power for sixteen years. For the past eight years almost the Democrats have been in power at a time of unprecedented prosperity. Now because the country is prosperous an effort is being made to dislodge the Democracy from high place in Washington. This is the riddle of politics: the enemy fought Cleveland because the country was too panicky; they are fighting Cox because the country is too prosperous.

Buck Hornet of the Waukomis Campbell says that the Republican party is always 100 per cent American. Which gives us an entirely new slant on La Follette, Bill Thompson, and Billy Mason.

Oklahoma Republicans show their opinion of Senator Capper's appeal for a reduction in the price of cotton by inviting him to open the Republican campaign at Geary early in September.

Oklahoma News: By gum, another peace ship wouldn't go bad right now.

Muskogee Times-Democrat: Pullman porters are wondering if the railroad rate commission said anything about tips.

Tulsa World: Not since he made his famous announcement while nominating McAdoo that he would not nominate him has anybody heard of Burrus Jenkins. Did he fall into the bay at Frisco?

Durant Democrat: One of the bad features of the cusing ordinance, which Mayor Frost is going to enforce in Durant, is that it makes no provision for the driver of Ford cars. Just how in the world can a fellow drive a Ford car without cussing.

Muskogee Times-Democrat: It begins to look like the Poles are going to settle their own troubles with soviet Russia without interference or aid from other powers. All the better if she does. We never hankered to help whip a child or a cripple anyway.

Shawnee News: Profiting by the experience of the Bryan campaign of 1896 Cox is instituting a searching investigation into the proposed unemployment conditions being brought about in some large industries with a view to influencing workers to vote the republican ticket. It is hardly comprehensible at a time when there is a steady demand for its product unless some motive of this sort is at the bottom of it.

LEGION TO HELP MEDAL CAMPAIGN

Veterans Enlist Services For Distribution of Victory Medals.

By News Special Service.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—To facilitate distribution of Victory Medals in which the war department has enlisted the co-operation of the American Legion, Adjutant General P. C. Harris has announced that a copy of the war department's official battle area map will be forwarded to each of the 9,600 posts of the legion, which are situated in every community in the United States and in nineteen insular possessions and foreign countries. "The map will be of great value as an aid to determining eligibility for battle awards in the issue of the Victory Medal," writes the adjutant general in the letter to Franklin D'Olier, national commander of the legion. "This office is also pleased to state that since the arrival at mutual understanding of the American Legion and the recruiting service the matter of distribution of Victory Medals has been progressing nicely."

Notwithstanding the improvement in the situation noted by the adjutant general there still is a good deal of misunderstanding on the part of veterans as to the steps necessary to procure their medals and the arrangement under way for the formal presentation of the medals, which will take place on November 11.

There are two means by which ex-service men may apply for their decorations. The easiest method is to apply at any post of the American Legion. The war department has authorized post commanders to draw official application forms. These forms can be executed at post headquarters. Legion officials will forward them to the proper sources. The other way to get a medal is to apply at any recruiting station.

There is only one way in which a veteran may share in the formal presentation ceremonies, the arrangements for which are in entire charge of the local Legion officials in each community. Unless otherwise specified, all medals applied for through Legion channels will be delivered to the Legion post of the veteran's choice and retained there until Armistice Day when the formal presentations will be held simultaneously throughout the country. Veterans who apply for their medals through the recruiting service will receive them by mail at their homes. If they desire to participate in the Armistice Day ceremonies they should deposit their medals with a legion post.

The legion makes no distinction between members and non-members in the Victory Medal distribution. By the terms of the agreement with the war department all ex-service men may apply for their decorations through legion channels and participate in the Armistice Day celebrations under legion auspices. Special arrangements are being made to get medals to gold-star mothers and other next-of-kin who are privileged to receive the decorations of men who died in the service.

IMPROVEMENT OF ADA WATER WORKS

2,000,000 Gallon Reservoir Under Construction At This Time.

To aid in supplying the city with water a 2,000,000 gallon reservoir is being built at a cost of $46,000. The construction work will likely be complete by the first of September, but it will be several months yet before the reservoir will begin serving the city.

The reservoir will be sanitary. The two sections, which hold 1,000,000 gallons each, are constructed of reinforced concrete. They are so made as to drain out any sediment that might collect in them. Each is roofed to keep out all foreign matter.

This new reservoir is located about a mile south of town to the left of where the Ada Brick company is situated. It is located where it is because the surface is lower there than the ground where Byrd's Mill rises. In the future it will likely be necessary to build a new line to the spring and, when it is done, a gravity flow line can be constructed. This means that the water of Byrd's Mill will run into the reservoir without pumping. We may in the future need all the water that the spring supplies.

The purpose of constructing this reservoir is to provide the city with water in any case of emergency, or when for any reason, the regular flow through the Byrd's Mill line is not sufficient for the demands of the city. It is true that we cannot use all the water of Byrd's Mill and it is also true that we do not get enough water sometimes when we need it worst. With the industries of Ada in full blast drawing upon the standpipe, together with drain for domestic purposes, there is not sufficient water in many parts of the city. The standpipe cannot store up enough with its capacity to furnish us with plenty of water in times of heaviest usage. Now, with the construction of this reservoir, when the standpipe gets full all the surplus water will go to the reservoir where it will be kept in store for the times when the standpipe gets low and fails to give us all the water we need.

The new reservoir connects up with the Byrd's Mill line near the brick plant with a twelve inch line. A fourteen inch leads from the reservoir to the standpipe. The water is forced through the last named line by electric pumps.

The city has purchased three acres of ground where the reservoir is located together with a roadway twenty feet wide leading to the main highway. This property will first be enclosed with a fence and then graded up. In fact, the place will be a sort of beauty spot. The construction work of the reservoir and pump house is nearing completion. Joseph E. Nelson & Sons, of Chicago and Kansas City, have the contract for this work. Emmett Ponton was formerly the superintendent of this job but now C. C. Carroll fills the position. This work was begun June 28.

The above statement that the construction work is nearing does not mean that the reservoir will soon begin to function. The work of installing machinery and laying water mains will probably take several months. The Merkle Machinery company, of Kansas City, will do the installing.

Johnson & Benham are the city's consulting engineers. For them several resident engineers are working. They are H. S. Darlington, W. L. Whitacre and F. Hudson. The Superintendent of Water-works Smith, states that too much cannot be said for the good work that has been turned out by those who have been employed in the reservoir construction.

With the completion of this reservoir and the enlargement of the city mains, we may hope for better water service.

Insurer

Mr. Fire Insurance Purchaser,
Ada, Oklahoma.

Dear Sir:

Every few days some customer brings in a Cheap Insurance proposition from some reciprocal, inter-insurer, or mutual and wants it explained. Generally speaking, it is "playing with fire." You are not INSURED of anything, except that if your credit is good you will have to pay the losses incurred by your brother underwriters, for when you join you become an INTER-INSURER and assume all the hazards that go with insurance, while the manager of the concern very kindly relieves you of all responsibilities of creating your new liability.

YOU hire a man you do not know to operate your insurance business for you. YOU give him a wide open power of attorney to oblige you indefinitely. YOU trust him to pick your associates, i. e., those you insure and those who insure you. YOU empower him to incur liabilities for you that should be incorporated in your financial statement. YOU agree to pay a fixed percentage of all premiums collected, letting him keep any surplusage and so give him an incentive to reckless underwriting. YOU take his word absolutely: THAT he is a good underwriter; THAT he will return a big dividend; THAT his system is scientifically correct; THAT your co-insurers will remain solvent; THAT he will pay you all losses; THAT you will not have to pay other losses out of your business; THAT you are not going to be involved in an expensive lawsuit; THAT he will not put you in the light of a criminal by transacting business in violation of state laws; THAT as your attorney he will not get you mixed up with Uncle Sam. And finally you take his word absolutely that he is in fact your long lost brother and is just pining to save you money with no concern whatever for his own interests.

Compare, if you please, the above indefinite proposition, with purchasing insurance from old line fire insurance companies where there is no unknown liability, and no uncertainty; represented by a local agent whom you are sure is absolutely competent to write insurance, or else he would not be permitted to represent the biggest insurance companies in the world, and incidentally among the biggest institutions in the world with an absolute record, dating in a great many instances more than one hundred years back.

Yours very truly,

Plans that go wrong are the cause of nearly all the trouble in the world. No sane person ever plans trouble for himself yet every one is constantly planning ahead, and trouble develops, therefore it must be that most plans go wrong for trouble is one of the commonest things in the world.

It is experienced so often that the most nerve racking troubles are usually humorous to bystanders, and many times cause good laughs to the people involved after they are over. It would seem that people could get a source of comfort out of predicaments they are in by realizing the humor of the situation, but it is very seldom there is any humor to be seen until they are safely out.

Wildcat Still Was Seized Yesterday Near Stonewall

A wildcat distillery was captured yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Claude Chandler in the Buck Creek country near Stonewall. Beside the still itself a quantity of mash was seized and destroyed.

F. H. Blackwood and L. H. Lacey who were clearing away timber in the vicinity of the still, were arrested on suspicion of being the owners and operators of the still. Later in the day Sheriff Duncan arrested Audie Blackwood on suspicion of being connected in some way with the booze factory. Lacey to Holdenville last night for appearance before the United States commissioner. Audie Blackwood is still in jail at Ada.

The oil situation of Pontotoc county is better each day. Practically all lands are leased and drilling is taking place over many sections of this county.

Quite a number of boy scouts departed on their two weeks' outing. As given out before, the boys will go to Turner Falls near Davis. The boys were fixed up for camp life and will doubtless have the time of their lives.

MORGAN BOLEN, EX-SOLDIER, GETS VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Morgan Bolen, who was taken into the war service from Ada, received vocational training last year at the A. & M. college at Stillwater. He is receiving special training in the raising of livestock.

Mr. Bolen served in the infantry and contracted trench fever while on the Verdun front. This malady affected his feet and limbs to such an extent as to incapacitate him for service. As a result of this he is receiving free vocational instruction.

He is thoroughly familiar with the fighting that took place in the late war. He relates many interesting tales with respect to the fighting in the Argonne forest.

Three years is the time in which those taking the vocational work are supposed to finish. It may, however, be finished in a shorter time. It is stated that about 200 ex-soldiers are taking the work at the college.

Bolen is a member of the Chickasaw tribe of Indians. Before the war he was for three years a government interpreter. He will go in business for himself when his course is completed.

City Fills Pipe Line Ditches That Breeds Mosquitoes

Good evening. The city has finally decided to let a few men go to work on the filling up of the pipe line ditches over town.

It is very noticeable that the ditch near The News office is being filled this afternoon. This place was a breeding place for mosquitoes and "dererium trembles."

The business men in this section of the city are wearing smiles this afternoon that won't wear off for a few days. The city at last got a little action on themselves and we are glad.

Ada High Has Bright Football Prospects For Coming Year

According to the statement of those who are in position to know, Ada high school never had quite such a bright prospect for a football team as this year. This is not a wild assertion but a statement based on the interest shown at the present time.

Although school does not open until the 13th of September, there were 30 men out yesterday afternoon for the first practice of the season. Among those practicing were several letter men, star players of last year, Cuning, McKendree, Crawford, Burk, Chilcutt, Meaders and Laird. Besides these, there was a big string of the old second team men out and, also, a good bunch of new men who have recently moved here from other places.

The new coach for the coming year, C. R. Cox, was in charge of the practice yesterday. Mr. Cox was captain of the Edmond football team in 1915. Since that time he has had coaching experience at Ramona, Glenn Pool, Hollis and Anadarko, Oklahoma. He comes to us very highly recommended. While all in the school regret to lose the former coach, Charley Rayburn, they feel that they have a man who can fill the place.

The boys who came out yesterday are filled with confidence. They have room for confidence from the fact that the coming lineup will have in it weight and experience. There are more of the old squad back this year than ever remained over before.

Quite a number of the alumni of Ada high were present at the practice. The Alumni association, it is stated, is really alive and is going to boost for A. H. S. Heretofore, the organization has merely existed, but it is going to function from here on out.

The gridiron is fixed up in good shape for the fall playing. A help to those who watch the games is the stadium on the east side of the field. It was constructed by the class of 1920 and will seat 400 or 500 people.

The schedule includes two games with Holdenville, two with Wetumka, one with McAlester, one with Shawnee and one with Okmulgee. The last three games will be played in Ada. Games are being arranged with Tishomingo A. & M. and with Ardmore.

Watch the high school for a winning football team this year. They have the pep—you give them the support.

With The Market Basket

Very opportunely, during the height of the preserving and jelly-making season, sugar has begun to slowly descend from the high attitude where it has been for many months. Some dealers in McAlester are now selling this product for 23 cents a pound, though a few are making even lower quotations. The reason for the decline is due, some declare, to the fact that speculators who have been making the prices go higher have been unable to finance their dealings further and have put their products on the market.

Cantaloupes and watermelons are losing their popularity because the supply has been so great that appetites are jaded. There is no market at the stores for these fruits, it is declared, though the end of the season, with the consequent diminishing of the supply, has caused the prices to start on the upward trend.

New cauliflower and celery made their appearance this week to give variety to the grocers' offerings for the table. Cauliflower is selling at 20 cents a pound. Celery is 25 cents a bunch.

Colorado potatoes, the first of the season, have also arrived here and are selling for 90 cents a peck. Kaw valley potatoes remaining on the local market may be had for 85 cents. Sweet potatoes are now $1 a peck.

The supply of green vegetables grows increasingly smaller, though there is still considerable variety to be had. New turnips have reached the stores recently. Tomatoes are fairly plentiful, though the next few weeks will see the supply exhausted.

Oklahoma grown Jonathan apples were to be seen at all the stores this week selling for 75 cents a peck. California gravensteins for eating may be purchased at 5 cents each. White grapes are selling for 30 cents a pound. Black grapes, popular for jelly-making, are also plentiful. California Elberta peaches command 50 cents a dozen. Lemons are cheap at 25 cents a dozen.

Fried chicken can appear on the dinner table only after the housewife has paid 40 cents a pound to the dealer. Hens are 30 cents a pound. Pork products continue to mount steadily. Bacon and ham are selling at unprecedented heights.

Excited Citizen Didn't Know His Bride's Real Name

To become engaged to a woman and obtain license to marry her before learning her name was the experience of a citizen of Pontotoc county a short time since. The groom-to-be had obtained license to wed and had given a certain name as the real name of the bride. Later when he brought his bride before the justice to be united in marriage it was discovered that the name on the license was not the name of the interested woman. The necessary change was made and the ceremony proceeded without further delay. The groom excused himself on the ground that he had met his bride only a few days before and "was not very well acquainted with her."

COX DECLARES FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 7.—A letter written by Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, democratic nominee for president, to John H. Pollock, a Kansas City attorney, in which Gov. Cox defines his position on law enforcement, was made public by Judge Pollock today. The letter, dated June 22, 1920, and mailed from the governor's office in Columbus, was sent in response to a letter from Pollock. It says:

"I have read your letter with interest. The question before us now is law enforcement. As the constitution and statutes stand they are the expressed mandate of the people and must be respected by public officers and citizens as long as they remain.

"There is no difference between neglect of the law by public officers and an attack against our institutions by the Bolsheviks. We contend, and properly so, that there is no need of revolution in this country because we have the governmental facilities to change the existing order by rule of the majority; but we can hardly create the proper attitude among aliens, unaccustomed to our ways, if public officers close their eyes to their oath and obligation.

"We have a record for law enforcement in this state. During my first term, Ohio was given a law, observing Sunday for the first time

DISPATCH SAYS VILLA AGREES TO SURRENDER

EL PASO, July 7.—An armistice has been signed by Francisco Villa and he has agreed to surrender under certain conditions. According to a dispatch from Torreon, published today by the El Paso Times, Villa has agreed to cease attacks on villages, garrisons and trains. According to the dispatch, the armistice agreement was secured by Elias L. Torres, representative of Provisional President Adolfo De Huerta, who left El Paso two weeks ago for Villa's camp in the mountains of Chihuahua.

According to the Times correspondent, Villa recognized Adolfo De Huerta as provisional president, and agrees to surrender when his terms and conditions are approved in writing by Adolfo De Huerta, General Elias Calles, Alvaro Obregon and Benjamin Hill.

owner also of the Springfield Daily News which today stands as one of the newspaper successes of the country.

To Congress in 1908. In 1908 he was nominated and elected to congress from the Third Ohio district and was re-elected for a second and third term.

In public life, Governor Cox was always regarded as a progressive and many of the laws now on the statute books of his home state which bear the progressive trend were sponsored by him both as congressman and governor.

Among these laws for which the Governor assumes responsibility are: A model workman's compensation act; a child labor law that has been copied by several other states; a mother's pension system; the initiative and referendum; a scientific budget; a prison farm providing healthy occupation for convicts; elimination of sweat shops; a Blue Sky law to protect Ohio investors; consolidation of useless bureaus; time limit on storage of food products and to check profiteering; extension of a good roads system by main market and inter-county roads.

Will Retire as Farmer. School men in Ohio are quoted as saying that the Ohio school code of today will live as an everlasting monument to the achievements of Governor Cox.

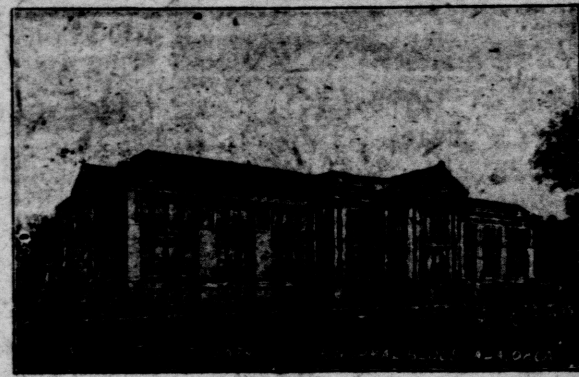

Governor Cox recently purchased the farm near Jacksonburg upon which he was born and is transforming it into a modern farm where he expects to spend his later days. He has a comfortable, modern suburban home at Dayton which he designed and where he resides when not in the state capitol attending to his official duties.

Fire Department Is Enlarging Its Sleeping Quarters

The city fire department is making substantial improvements in its dormitory today. The fire boys have found their present sleeping quarters at the city hall too small for comfort and lacking in ventilation, so they began work this morning moving a partition back ten feet, thereby adding much needed space to their bedroom. The enlarged room will have better ventilation and will when finished give them a fine place to spend their quiet hours. The boys are doing the work themselves and seem to be enjoying it.

GWIN & MAYS DRUG STORE

HIGH PRICES BREAK DOWN

Manufacturers and Jobbers Adopt Policy of Caution.

This is what the Dry Goods Economist, a recognized authority in its field, has to say this week as to the condition in textiles and allied lines:

"Gray goods continue weak and unsteady. Print cloths are selling at prices that closely approximate cost, and many of the finer cloths are in much the same position. The substantial reductions in quotations on white goods made last week by leading converters gives emphasis to this view.

"Raw cotton prices continue to recede on the New York cotton exchange, where October contracts ranged from 31.95 cents to 31.35 cents per pound early in the week.

"According to a statement by Senator N. B. Dial of South Carolina, the carry-over of cotton on Aug. 1 was 3,086,000 bales, exclusive of linters.

"This means that the country starts a new 'cotton year' with 3,086,000 bales and a growing crop now expected to yield 12,519,000 bales, making a total of 15,605,000 bales, and, with consumption at home of 6,000,000 bales and exports of 6,500,000 bales—the figures for the cotton year just closed—there should be a carry-over next year of 3,105,000 bales to meet unexpected demands.

"Work has been resumed in the sampling departments of some of the mills of the American Woolen Company, chiefly, it is said, in the men's wear fabrics. This is an encouraging sign, as it indicates that the concern will resume the production of goods in the near future.

"There has been no change in the dress goods situation; manufacturers, wholesale distributors and cutters-up are all sitting tight waiting for something to turn up.

"There has been no appreciable increase in the call for broad silks during the last week or so. Some buyers have been in the local showrooms looking for information regarding probable deliveries of goods on order, and here and there small orders have been given, but the total or new business has been almost negligible.

"Developments in the ready-to-wear field show that the determination of buyers to limit their present orders to staple garments is spreading. Reports from the road and from local showrooms are practically unanimous in this respect.

"Conditions in the leather glove field continue exceedingly complex. Both the wholesalers and the retailers are proceeding with the utmost caution, due to uncertainty as to the price trend.

"Fulton county leather glove manufacturers are exceedingly reluctant to proceed with their plans for increasing production. Orders booked to date for fall delivery have been considerably below expectations, and as a consequence the manufacturers have curtailed their operations rather than take the risk involved in accumulating stocks. This applies particularly to the high-grade domestic leather gloves which dominate the demand. Prices on standard merchandise continue firm.

"Inactivity still rules in knit goods markets. Hosiery and underwear mills are closing down as fast as orders are completed, in a number of instances the process of curtailment being hastened by cancellations from customers to whom delivery has been made late.

"Manufacturers of men's clothing in many parts of the country report a continuance of dull business, and several of them are curtailing business more than ever—some are closing entirely, for the present at least. They are following the plan adopted some time ago of refusing to make up goods for which they have not received orders. They reassert that retailers will force prices upward if there is a rush at the last minute for merchandise which is not ready when needed.

"Several styles in high boots for late fall business are reported as having good sales, and manufacturers are now turning their attention to spring styles. Salesmen are now either already out on their fall trips from the factories or are preparing to start within a week or two."

Education Department At East Central Will Be On Good Footing

A News reporter recently had the pleasure of interviewing R. R. Robinson, head of the department of education and director of the training school of East Central State Normal. In view of the changes and improvements in progress, one is forced to the conclusion that the education department of this institution will be in shape to do excellent work the coming year. We would not discredit the progress of the past but we would have you familiar with the advancement of the present.

Of course the reader is aware of the new education building that adorns the campus. We hope, also, the fact is not forgotten that this is the first building in the state to be built for the exclusive use of any institution's education department. It is true that other buildings for similar purpose are under construction now but this was the first one. All who have visited the building are attracted by its classy appearance. It is well built, well lighted and well arranged for the best in classroom instruction.

This building was used during the recent summer term but it did not have new furniture and equipment. At the present time new electric light fixtures and new furniture are being installed.

All the education classes and the training school, including the first eight grades, will occupy the building. Applications are being received now for admittance into the training school. All who wish to send their children to this school will likely not be accommodated as it is planned to have only 16 pupils to the grade. Those proposing to have their children attend this institution should make arrangements for their entrance as soon as possible.

The training school will be well equipped for vocational work in manual training and domestic science. Work in manual training will begin in the 5th grade and domestic science will, also, likely be instituted in the same grade. Both these departments are well provided with the necessary paraphernalia. There will be a juvenile library for the special use of the training school pupils. Such books will be in this collection as are adapted to the needs of the children.

Provision for play is not overlooked. Apparatus will be put on the grounds for the delight of the pupils. Inside is a playroom to be used especially on stormy days. The day when people do not believe in having children play at school is past. Of course, this is not to be carried to a hurtful extreme but the pupils are to have plenty of wholesome recreation. It is quite as essential as other work in the classroom. Mr. Robinson states that a decided effort will be made to give the children proper development in all lines.

Both boys and girls are to be provided with shower bath rooms. There is no one who questions the healthful value of the cleanliness to be gained in this manner.

Another item of note is the fact that psychological tests and measurements are to be carried out in the education department. These are lines of recent innovation and the field is yet open to wonderful development.

The education building will be named by the following faculty: R. R. Robinson, head of education department; E. H. Nelson, A. M., professor of psychology; Miss Stella Watson, critic teacher of 7th and 8th; Mrs. Ina Markin, critic teacher of 5th and 6th; Miss Achsah Gamble, critic teacher of 3rd and 4th, and Miss Mattie Lyday, critic teacher of 1st and 2nd grades.

The school administration is trying to boost things up. Let us as citizens boost our own Normal school to the limit as it justly deserves. You will not be exaggerating when you say that we have one of the best schools of the kind to be found in the state. September 7 is the opening date.

Royalists Burn City of Lisburn

By the Associated Press
LISBURN, Ireland, Aug. 24.—The business portion of Lisburn today presented a scene of ruin and desolation, as a result of the burning of shops by Royalists in revenge for the murder of Police Inspector Swaney here yesterday.

During the night the sky was lighted up by flames from the shops of supposed Sinn Feiners, the fire also involving a number of Royalist premises. The private homes of Sinn Feiners were burned and the furniture carried into the streets and ignited. The military authorities have posted guards over the Catholic chapel.

William Shaw, a local Sinn Feiner councilman, was so severely beaten that he is being detained in an infirmary.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Officials and employees of Hart Schaffner and Marx, clothing manufacturers, were summoned today to appear before the grand jury investigating the high cost of clothing.

The purpose of the investigation, it was said, is to determine whether retailers are charging undue profits.

OILING ROAD THAT LEADS TO ECONOMY

The average car owner obeys his instruction book explicitly, and he is careful to do nothing, unless he finds a suggestion in an automotive magazine or in that same book.

He fills the base of his engine with lubricant when oil is necessary, as indicated by the gauge. The instruction book does not always advise the owner further regarding the oiling system. At the present high cost of lubricant, more instructions are necessary.

You may have liquid in the base of your engine, but is it a lubricant? Many times this liquid is a combination of cylinder oil and kerosene. Its lubricating properties are poor, and should the bearing burn out through lack of oil the owner is apt to blame the oil for the trouble. Then he immediately buys oil of another grade, without knowing the real reason for his trouble.

I have found that the best way to make sure of using the right grade of oil is to use religiously the oil recommended by the manufacturers of the particular car one happens to drive.

Depending upon the type of engine, crank-case oil should be changed regularly. Old lubricating oil should be drawn out and thrown away and new oil put in, for at least every thousand miles of driving. In special cases it is advisable to renew the oil much oftener, but this is the usual length of time it should be left in the engine.

If the engine doesn't get a sufficient amount of oil it will run hot. If the driver does not notice that his oil gauge is failing to indicate it, it is doubtful that he would know the engine was hot until it stopped and wouldn't run any more. In such a case he would probably find that one or two, perhaps all, of the bearings are burnt out.

When the engine is not getting enough oil it usually because the oil supply has been allowed to run low or there is something wrong with the circulating system—either the pump is not forcing the oil to the bearing properly or the pipes are plugged or the connections are loose or the strainer is obstructed with foreign matter.

Whenever the gauge does not function properly the trouble should be investigated at once. Make sure, first of all, that there is enough oil in the crankcase. Then take a careful look at the oil pipe connections to make sure that they are not leaking. If these are tight, take out the oil strainer and clean it, and if the trouble is still in evidence disconnect all the oil pipes and stick wires through them or blow them out with the tire pump. Then refill the case with fresh oil. Finally, a better adjustment of the oil pump may be made to cause it to pump more oil, provided indications prove it to be improperly adjusted.

In ancient Arabia, the formal announcement of divorce was, "Be gone! For I will no longer drive thy flocks to the pasture!" But the modern American formula is "S'long! I do hope you'll like the climate of Reno." Which, to say the least, is much more polite.

Knock in Motor.

Q. Sometimes my motor knocks, but stops when I reduce the gas and retard the spark. Does my magneto need adjustment in accordance with the carburetor? I do not like to run on a retarded spark any more than I can help on account of the waste of gas. I have just installed a new carburetor.

A. By retarding the magneto slightly you may be able to eliminate the knock. With the old carburetor you probably had a slower burning mixture, which necessitated the use of a more advanced spark. Now that you have a new carburetor of a more perfected type, the mixture afforded by this is better and more rapid to burning. Of course, if the cylinders are very much carbonized, this, in itself, would produce a knock which could only be eliminated by removing the carbon. The knock can be cushioned somewhat by using a richer mixture, but this is not advisable if you desire a quick and responsive motor.

Watch Your Tires

During the winter the average driver subjects his tires to far more serious wear than he supposes. Driving in frozen ruts and car tracks invariably develops what the tire repair man calls a "rut worn tire." While the tread of good tire will run over miles and miles of frozen roadway without appreciable wear, the sides of the tires are not constructed to stand such abuse. Naturally, if the sides of the tire are subjected to road wear, the effect is bound to be quickly noticeable. Should your tires show signs of rut wear take them to a first class repair man at once. Very likely he will be able to put them into good condition at slight expense, whereas neglect will soon cause the tire to become worthless.

When you feel lazy, out of sorts and yawn a good deal in the day time, you need Herbine to stimulate your liver, tone up your stomach and purify your bowels. 60c. Sold by Hensler & Story. (adv.)

Backfiring.

Q. I have a motor which acts peculiar when traveling at a high rate of speed. It backfires in the carburetor when running at high speed. I know this is usually a sign of weak mixture, but I have tried several adjustments of the carburetor and cannot overcome the trouble.

A. If you are certain that the mixture is sufficiently rich at high engine speed to overcome backfiring there is a possibility that the intake valve springs are too weak. In other words, the springs are not sufficiently strong enough to positively seat the valves each time. In such cases the gas in the combustion chamber of the cylinder is ignited and backfires into the manifold and mixing chamber of the carburetor. Stronger springs on the intake valves will undoubtedly reduce the trouble.

Lowering the Cost of Living

Price is not the real test of economy. You can best reduce the cost of living in your home by purchasing goods that are standard in quality—that will give you longer service and greater value.

A sure test of quality merchandise is this: "Do you see it advertised consistently and persistently?" If you do, it is good value. No sane merchant or manufacturer would continue to spend good money advertising poor merchandise. When he urges you to buy his product, he is staking his good name on your satisfaction. And he can't afford to lose!

So read the advertisements—regularly. They protect you against fraud and inferiority. They tell you what is new and good—making you a wise buyer. And they save you money by selecting for your consideration only the best products in every line of merchandise.

Advertisements are written and printed for your benefit. Make it your habit to read them and profit by them.

INDIAN APPEALS TO LEGION FOR PROTECTION

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—As appeal by an American Indian, a preacher and a veteran of a machine battalion in the world war, for protection of his own soil has been received by the American Legion Weekly. The Rev. Whitefeather, a member of the Fallon, Nev., post of the legion is the author of the appeal which asks that the "white man" be kept off the reservation near Stillwater, a proposal having been made to open it for settlement.

"Make a law that no white man or Mexican can take our lands or marry in this tribe," he urges. "Put all poor Indians in good shape and I know that the government will be well paid in the long run. We have no lazy Indians here at all. The white man would like to see us poor Indians give up our land and work for them. A man, no matter who he is, if he works out for others is the loser."

The Rev. Whitefeather served in the 346th Machine Gun Battalion.

CITY SCHOOLS TO OPEN SEPT. THE 13

All Is In Readiness For Great Term—Teachers Assigned.

By J. E. Hickman.

The public schools of Ada will open the fall term Monday, September 13. Plans in the way of buildings, improvements and equipment are being rapidly pushed now in order that everything may be in readiness for the beginning of the school year. The faculties for the ward schools have been selected with but two or three exceptions and will be ready to report the week before the school year opens. Because of the fact that the new school building, the contract for which was recently let, will not be ready at the beginning of the fall term, it will be necessary on account of the congested conditions at the high school building to keep all eight B in the ward buildings until the new building is ready. It is likely, therefore, that all eight B pupils will remain at the ward buildings until the beginning of the second semester. Plans have been made to place all eighth grade pupils in the junior high school at the opening of the school in September, but it will be impossible to do so on account of lack of room.

The following is a list of the teachers with whom contracts have been signed to date:

Willard Building.

A. D. Bolton, Principal; Miss Neva Kennon, Miss Mary Chisholm, Miss Anna Lee Bolton, Miss Nell Hodge, Miss Alyne Duncan, Miss Cathrine Edmiston, Miss Lillian Hodge, Miss Beatrice Craig.

Hayes Building.

E. E. Emerson, Principal; Mrs. Wick Adair, Miss Willie Thompson, Miss Lois Heard, Miss Vernon Bates, Miss Gervis Bills, Mrs. T. W. Edwards, Mrs. F. E. Gray, Miss Lucille Griffith, Miss Kathleen Grant.

Irvine Building.

Arthur Vernon, Principal; Miss Bonn Mitchell, Mrs. Jessie Bagley, Miss Ina Laird, Miss Rose Elliff, Miss Lucille Harrison, Mrs. Nona Pickens, Miss Vera Grant, Miss Mae Grant.

Glenwood Building.

Mrs. Mary McCoy, Principal; Mrs. J. C. Deavers, Miss Callie Brown, Miss Mildred Miller, Miss Hazel West, Miss Anna Lipstreu, Miss Lenore McKendree, Mrs. Grace Van Eaton, Miss Mollie Russell.

South Ward Building.

Miss Lela McAllister, Miss Bertie Slyfe.

High School.

A. L. Fentem, Principal; Miss Inez Donaldson, B. S., music supervisor; Miss Ruth McBride, A. B., head of English department; Miss Kathleen Brock, A. B., assistant in English; Mrs. Wilbur Lee, assistant in English; John W. Whipple, B. S., head of history department; C. R. Cox, assistant in history; Miss Jennie M. Joiner, A. B., head of language department; D. T. Bradshaw, B. S., head of manual training department; Miss Margaret Cameron, head of home economics department; Miss Ira Gregg, B. S., assistant in home economics; Miss Mabel Norwood, head of commercial department; Miss Abbie Kitchens, assistant commercial department; W. A. Hill, B. S., head of science department; Oscar Parker, assistant in science department; Miss Eunice Bills, assistant in mathematics department; C. R. Cox, physical director and athletic coach; J. O. Vernon, head junior high school department; Miss Gladys Coble, assistant junior high school.

The following tentative assignments have been made with reference to school activities for the coming year: Mr. Fentem will direct the orchestra. Mr. Hill will have charge of the band. Miss Donaldson will direct all chorus work. Miss McBride will have charge of the library. Miss Ira Gregg will supervise the cafeteria. Mr. Cox will have charge of all athletics. The heads of all departments in the high school are teachers holding degrees and having successful experience. It is the plan of the school authorities to seek affiliation this year with the North Central association of colleges and secondary schools. Plans are under way at the present time for the organization of a Junior R. O. T. C. unit to take the place of the H. S. V. U. S. previously maintained. If a qualified man can be found for this work the board has the assurance from Capt. W. T. Jones, assistant R. O. T. C. officer of Fort Sam Houston, that the government stands ready to furnish equipment for this unit. This equipment will include suits for all members of the organization. Plans are under way also for a school nurse. At present it will be impossible for the school to maintain the services of a nurse without outside assistance. The local Red Cross is working with the school in this matter. If the two organizations can unite their efforts and secure a nurse for full time, the schools will have the benefit of such medical instruction and health supervision as the time of one nurse will allow.

It is a credit to the city of Ada that in the last three years two school buildings have been completed at a cost of $75,000 and a contract has been recently let for a third building at a cost of $75,000. The public generally and the patrons of the school in particular, should know and appreciate the fact that the board of education has sold this last bond issue at 100 cents on the dollar, at a time, too, when the bond market is not offering more than 80 cents on the dollar. This has been made possible, however, through the co-operation of Mr. Swaffar, county treasurer, and the banks of the city. It is safe to say that the board has been able to save the school district this year $6,000 by this transaction.

As we begin to make our plans for and look forward to the new school year, let us all, teachers, pupils and patrons, realize that it is only through co-operation that this work can carry on and that all interested working together can make the school interests a live interest in a wide-awake town.

'PEP' HORNSBY TAPS BALL PLAYERS LIST

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Players in the national league who last week were leaders in their specialties continued to set the pace, according to averages released today, which include games of Wednesday.

Roger Hornsby, the St. Louis Star, who topped the list of batters participating in fifty or more games a week ago with an average of .372, retained the same mark although he played in eight games during the week. However he increased this lead in total bases to 245, or 162 hits which include 32 doubles, 15 triples and 7 homers. Bays of Boston, although dropping three points, continued to be the runner-up with .353, while Nicholson of Pittsburgh stepped in front of Roush of Cincinnati for third place, with a mark of .351. The Cincinnati outfielder slumped five points for an average of .327 which ties him with J. Smith of St. Louis for fourth place. Cy Williams, the Philadelphia outfielder, failed to swell his home run total of 13, Max Carey of Pittsburgh negotiated a quartette of stolen bases and is showing the way with 42. Other leading batters: Stock, St. Louis, .326; Williams, Philadelphia, .322; Young, New York, .321; Hollocher, Chicago .318; King, New York, .317; Groh Cincinnati, .316; Myers, Brooklyn, .313; Z. GOODYEAR ROOFING CEMENT AGENCY PLACED IN CITY

The agency for Goodyear Roofing Cement has been placed with J. F. Floyd of this city and it is intended to make this the center for a wide distribution field for this famous product.

This roofing cement was only recently introduced into this locality but is proving to be one of the best ever used here. The climatic conditions in this section are such that nothing but a perfectly good product will stand up, and the fact that the Goodyear product is standing the test is making it a popular seller.

Only last spring the roof on the News building went bad and leaked from one end to the other. It was intended to use two coats on the News building, but it developed that one was sufficient. Attention is called to Mr. Floyd's advertisement in this issue.
